Foreword

We hope that this yearbook, made possible by the kind co-operation of students, teachers, and advertisers, will remind the students for many years to come of the happy and important days spent at Cumberland Township High School.

Dedication

To the brave men and women who are today working and fighting in defense of liberty and freedom everywhere. May their efforts be not in vain.

SCHOOL

The Board of Education of Cumberland Township High School has been very progressive in its attitude towards our school. The many fine improvements are evidence of their continued interest in our welfare. They have been responsible for our modern equipment and excellent faculty. They were the first in Greene County to provide lights for football and other night entertainment. Under their leadership our school has become one of the finest in this district.

We have grown so accustomed to taking our educational advantages for granted that most of us do not fully appreciate the work and thought that others have devoted to it. The work of the Board of Education is all the more remarkable when we realize that it is all done without pay of any kind.

Just to let them know that, in our sober moments, we do recognize and appreciate what they have done and are doing for us, we dedicate this page to our Board of Education.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In August, 1937, we entered Cumberland Township High School, one-hundred-ninety-five green freshmen, intent on breaking up the iron rule of the upper-classmen. Nevertheless, we were blamed for all the mischief that went on in school, and most of the time we were not falsely accused. By the second semester we had begun to participate in school affairs and had elected our class officers. They were Frank Bialko, president; Genevieve Sharpnack, vice president; George Stilwell, treasurer. We planned and successfully held a freshman party. All of us enjoyed our first year thoroughly; and, at the close of the term, we looked back on a happy and important milestone in life.

After a welcome and well-spent vacation, we began our term as sophomores in the fall of 1938. Everyone seemed more sophisticated and we all displayed the conceit typical of sophomores after the greenness of the freshman year had disappeared. We settled down to work and became more active in school affairs. Some of the boys began to take part in athletics. John Bizub was elected to serve as president, Joe Tekavec as vice president, George Stilwell as treasurer. For the second successive year we held a class party. This year seemed to pass more quickly than the last. The final "exams" were taken. We said words of farewell to our classmates and school ended for three months.

Our junior year began in August, 1939. Now we were at least upperclassmen. The year was crammed full of incidents that will never be forgotten. A meeting was held to elect class officers and the results were as follows: president, Don Atcheson; vice president, Ethel Ellenberger; treasurer, George Stilwell. We held several sweater-hops to make money for our senior year; they were more successful than we dared hope. More and more we took active part in sports and social gatherings. The big event of the year was a trip to Pittsburgh. Most of the class went along and laughter rang loud that day, even though we all were rain-soaked. The last day finally came and we were dismissed with a feeling of mingled joy and sorrow.

The month of September, 1940, saw the beginning of our last lap through high school. Soon, we realized, we would take our place in a world of wars and dictators. We wondered how we could change the dark-colored

CLASS PROPHECY

When I awoke that spring morning in 1951, I had no idea that it would be more than an ordinary day. I was wrong. I had forgotten about Superman whose extraordinary feats of skill and strength seemed to me to be the brainchild of the author. My knowledge of him came from reading the "funnies" every evening. The things he did were impossible. You can't imagine how surprised I was when I came face to face with him that morning while in a downtown restaurant drinking my daily glass of orange juice.

"Good morning," said Superman.

"G—g—good morning. "I stammered.

"Could we have a little private talk?", asked Superman.

I nodded, not trusting myself to speak.

Just then my orange juice lost its flavor and my throat became dry. How I managed to walk out of the restaurant without fainting is something that puzzles me yet.

Once outside, he quickly led me to a car, helped me in, and, after sliding under the wheel, started the engine of his 16 cylinder Cadillac.

"I'd like you to identify someone for me. In return I'll do a favor for you. What would you like?" he asked.

My mind worked swiftly. "I'd like you to tell me what the members of the class of 1941 are doing," I answered.

"I'd be delighted," he replied.

With the aid of his super-human eye, Superman peered into the heart of the city. In his rich, deep-toned voice he told me:

Betty Hollis and Irene Cole have become professional seamstresses. They charge $10 for an interview, then a little more if you talk too much.

Josephine Angeline has stopped reading the "Reflector", a newspaper from Sewickley Township. She now reads the daily paper across the table from a former Sewickley student.

Virginia Helmick, who was a quiet girl in school days, is the greatest woman side show barker in the state.

Ina Christopher is a fashion model for Saks, Fifth Avenue, New York. She makes $75 a week and dates every night.

Dolores Kavulish is a professional skater and can be seen at Madison Square Garden in New York any night in the week except Monday.

Thomas Harrison has gone to Texas to be a cowboy. His slow drawl certainly comes in handy.

Marcine Helmick has moved into the cottage of her dreams. Edward is putting the finishing touches on it and will add the roof tomorrow.

Victor Kovach has been appointed president of the bank at Crucible. He declares a holiday for the employees every other day.

Mildred Gotch was such a success as president of the Girls' C Club that the President of the United States has just appointed her president of a national girls' organization.

Gertrude Crick and Dorothy Krause are nurses at the West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh. They have just prepared a new motto for the hospital—"Eventually—Why Not Now!"

Kathleen Jamison has just started "Ye Old Candy Shop" and always gives one or two extra pieces for good measure. Mary Kasinec helps make it but eats more.

Ed Cormack has become Betty Grable's chauffeur. He finds the work quite interesting.

Ethel Ellenberger is an accomplished author. She has just written a book entitled "How to Get Your Man Without 10 Easy Lessons."

Betty Grimm is a famous operatic singer with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She can't be blamed for adding a bit of swing to the music now and then, just for variety.

Paul Long has published a book entitled "How to Increase Your Height." He has sold over three million copies.

CLASS PROPHECY

Kenneth Hartley has succeeded his father as a dairyman and operates a dairy on the outskirts of Rices Landing.

Ruth Burnsworth and Margaret Bystry are owners of the "Swing and Sway" Dancing School and teach all the Arthur Murray steps.

Although Tillie May Danforth now owns the Packard Motor Company, she still insists on driving her own car—the 1941 Plymouth.

Mary Zabo, having been promoted while working in the Crucible Company Store, is head of the office department now.

Bruce Smitely owns a Skunk Factory at Pierceville. He has made a considerable fortune selling furs.

Remo Bertugli has taken over the management of his father's Beer Garden in Rices Landing and is proving his work a success.

Elsie Bryner has just attained her last ambition which was to be a nurse for the "Red Cross." Now she can be near "Eob."

Kathleen Davis has grown two feet taller and has joined the "Tall Girls' Cooking Class." She makes tall dishes for a certain Mr. Reynolds.

Mary Herbik is working for the Gregg Shorthand Company. She has just perfected a new system of writing shorthand which she guarantees can be learned in 10 easy lessons.

George Cerjanec is Humphrey Bogart's bodyguard. He finds his bullet-proof vest slightly tight. IT ITCHES, TOO.

Bill Neel, Joe Youhouse, and Andrew Yandura are big-game hunters in Africa and spend their leisure time collecting specimens for the zoos.

Theresa Maruska and Antoinette Mesich, having completed a beauty course in Fittsburgh, operate the best beauty salon in "Buckeye." Most of their trade comes from former classmates of Cumberland Township High School.

Marjorie Morofsky, the former man hater, is married and is living in Florida where she spends most days lying in the sand.

Eleanor Murphy and Alice Ziomek have once again seen each other after a lapse of eight years. Eleanor has become a waitress at Coney Island and Alice has remained at home to be an usherette at the Nemacolin Theatre.

Mildred Nopwasky and Wanda Milligan were graduated from Indiana State Teachers College. Mildred is a home economics teacher at Philadelphia, and Wanda has gone to Florida to teach to the pupils of Tallahassee what she learned in college and also at C. T. H. S.

Mary Petuck is living a quiet and uneventful life in the suburbs of New York, where she sees Alice Vavrek occasionally; Alice is employed at Macy's.

William Prodan and Ben Shimek, who are still good friends, wanted to take a fling at city life, and since their departure from home have traveled in all the largest cities of the United States.

Doris Levine has opened a shop in Chicago. She sells potato peelers and other kitchen utensils at half price.

Because of Andrew Strednak's ability in chemistry and physics in high school, he has been able to secure a position (testing food) at the Heinz Factory.

Margaret Sufilka is married to F. P., and they are living in Nemacolin where Freddie is employed as mine foreman.

George D. MtJoy's Garage—Chrysler and Plymouth—Used Cars—Carmichaels, Pa.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dora Ross, having become interested in learning of the culture of Egypt, is exploring the tomb of King Tut.

Elvira Vance has received a position as stenographer with a firm in Latrobe and makes her home with relatives there.

Booker Ward is a rising young physician with his office in the Arcade Building in Pittsburgh.

"Donald Atcheson has just secured a job as dance director for Alfred Gacomel's new musical comedy, "You Are My Sunshine."

Jack Barger is running for governor of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket. If nominated, he promises to eliminate all Democrats in the state.

Mary Bulina and Ruth Day still dance and giggle. Now they get paid for it. They're under contract to M-G-M.

Victor Drombosky is still the nation's greatest basketball player. She has won the title for four consecutive years. Leona Ciosmak, is her manager and press agent.

James Craig can be heard daily on station COD. He's the greatest comedian since Bob Hope.

Margaret DeIuliis has been secured by the Winx Company to advertise their product. She "winks" quite well too.

Lawrence Kerr is head advertising agent for Better Homes and Gardens. His success with the yearbook advertisements (1941) helped him secure the position.

Frank Koziel has organized his own band and is now tops in popularity. He plans to retire when he gets his first million.

Irvin Areford has just won another blue ribbon—that is his pig did. They both visited the County Fair last week.

Eleanor Knight is still undecided, even when it comes to famous people. She can't decide which she really cares for—Richard Green or Mickey Rooney!

Pauline Yanci and Josephine Wahula are night club hostesses and also duchesses of Buckeye.

William Rechichar has become an accomplished clarinet player and is now in Benny Goodman's band.

Dorothy Ross became a head governess at a children's nursery in Philadelphia. Taking care of children is her favorite sport.

Ann Nemesh and Rose Roman are doing missionary work in India; recently they were praised for saving lives in a typhoon.

Rudolph Curtis and Irwin Reeves have taken a course in agriculture and are now partners on the Zuider Zee farm at Khedive.

"There, is that all?" asked Superman.

"Oh, definitely," I replied, "and thank you so much. You know, I rather doubted you for a while."

"What do you mean, doubted me?" questioned Superman.

"Well, frankly I thought you were just a publicity hound and had about as much supernatural power as I did. Now I know better. Thanks again. Now for your favor. Bring on the unknown person."

Down the street we went. Who knew what future adventures I would encounter!

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1938, the class of 1942 entered the portals of Cumberland Township High School. Following the pattern of tradition, we soon discovered that the class of '42 meant nothing to the upper classmen. However, after the first painfilled weeks, we were gradually allowed to assume the status of normal human beings.

Our first real chance of getting acquainted with each other came in the spring of the year at which time the freshman party was held.

We lacked representation in all sports with the exception of wrestling in which Miller, Grove, Shimek, and Urbany were outstanding performers.

We initiated the social activities of our sophomore year with a novel "Sadie Hawkins Day" and a dance. This was followed by Color Day and later a card party, which proved to be the most outstanding social event of that year. In sports we were represented by Shimek, Zagoric, Urbany, Danforth, and Miller. In that year we were well represented in forensic work, having the greatest number from any one class. They were Ersagovich, Struble, Sloneker, Mermelstein, and Papson.

The following year we returned and welcomed the new freshmen. Our first social event of the year was a roller skating party, a new fad at school. In early spring we made our long-awaited trip to Pittsburgh; this proved to be educational and also most entertaining. To complete a successful year we held a junior class party. Dancing and entertainment were provided and refreshments were served.

Every junior joins in wishing the seniors the best of luck and success.

SOPH. CLASS HISTORY

Two years ago, much to our bewilderment, we entered this high school as green as freshies could be. As is the custom, we were initiated, to the misfortune of some of us. We spent most of the first few days finding the way to our classes and getting acquainted with the faculty members. The studies finally came along.

For the first football game we had to wear signs which were a sort of initiation in the eyes of the sophomores who had charge of it. Before the game we paraded up town and stood around the square where our signs were judged by some upperclassmen. The prize was won by Wood Hathaway.

After being in school for several weeks we chose officers for our class. They were Jimmy Glover, president; Alice Rostowick, vice president; Rose Barton, secretary; and Don Allayaud, treasurer. Our sponsor was Mr. Kerr.

During the year we enjoyed a party held by the last year's sophomores who very kindly had us as their guests. It was a Sadie Hawkins Day occasion. All the boys were to dress like Lil' Abner and the girls like Daisy Mae. There were quite a few good costumes. The school decided by popular acclaim that Joe Petratus, a member of our class, made the best Lil' Abner. Outside of that we had no activities as a class but we were represented on the wrestling squad by George Holupka, Johnny Uswa, and Billy Biddle.

This year its our turn to have a little fun with the "freshie." Things have been taken over by our capable classmates, Bill Grimm, president; Gerald Kane, vice president; Ann Frankenburger, secretary; Malvine Bise, treasurer; and our good sponsor Mr. Palone.

We held a party in the gym on November 15 which was a great success, in our estimation anyhow. On January 30 our class sponsored a skating party at the Fairdale Roller Skating Rink. Some were a little wobbly on skates at first but by the end of the evening everyone was sailing around. We had a good time.

Back again this year on the wrestling squad we have George Holupka and Billy Biddle. For the Mikes basketball "B" squad we have Sammy Gotch,

THE BOOK CLUB

The Book Club is a new feature in our school which has attracted many students. We are very happy to begin our library with such famous authors as Nathaniel Hawthorne, Thomas Hardy, John Masefield and Margaret Mitchell. The books tell of thrilling murder mysteries, of bravery, courage, love, and adventure. For such attractively-bound books by world-renowned authors, both ancient and modern, a quarter is the lowest price we have heard of.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra also organized this year is composed of twenty-two members and a drive for new members is under way. They took part in the programs given at Christmas and Thanksgiving and played in the mass orchestra at the music festival. John Koral and Frank Kiziel represented this group in the music forensics at Waynesburg. John won first place with the clarinets and Frank took second place with the trumpets.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

Last September we, a group of very ignorant but none the less eager freshmen entered Cumberland Township High School to further our education. There were 208 of us, and for a while we were all Irish. But the sky finally cleared and because of space we found ourselves all in one homeroom, the auditorium. Our teachers are Mr. Bonifield, Mr. Hathaway and Miss Harriette Baily.

Being new here we expected initiation, and got it! On the day of the Mapletown game we wore signs. Prizes for the best of these were awarded to Robert Miller, Stanley Clark and Marion Davies. We also underwent some other formalities which the upperclassmen thought their duty to bestow upon us. These afforded much entertainment for everybody, that is everybody but the victims. We hope we are good enough sports to take it.

After a few weeks of the usual excitement and confusion that accompanies the opening of school, we settled down to work in earnest. (At least some of us did) Besides our regular classes we began to take an interest in sports and other activities. Kathleen Davies was appointed cheerleader from our class and Thomas Koballo and Margaret Urban were appointed to the "Mike" staff. In football, basketball, and wrestling, our boys took an active part. The chorus under the leadership of Miss Barclay seemed to be the main attraction for the girls and among those who took part we found many very lovely voices. In the orchestra we had eight members: Robert Titus, Emil Velencia, Thomas Koballo, Steve Buday, John Cramer, George Djakavitch, William Reeves and Estella Krause. Next year we hope to have many new members both in the band and the orchestra.

In forensic work we had quite a few entries. The debate portion was represented by Allen Gwynne, James Cole, Robert Titus, Estella Krause and Marylin Jean Sica. Others taking part in different types of this work were Laura Hartley, Esther Lee and Jo-Ann Murphy. Emil Vilencia was our sole entry in the musical section.

You hear music. Is there dancing in the gym? Oh, No! Haven't you heard? That's our orchestra which has come about since the music department was organized this fall. Miss Evelyn Barclay, a new member of the faculty, is the instructor and already the musical talent in our school is taking the shape of an orchestra, and a chorus consisting of seventy-five girls.

The orchestra was first composed of students already having some musical training. A little later on opportunity was given which made it possible for all interested students to own and play an instrument. The various instruments were demonstrated by a representative from Volkwein Bros. in Pittsburgh. The orchestra, consisting of twelve violins, six trumpets, eight clarinets, four saxaphones, two "E" Alto Horns, one flute, and drums, is rapidly becoming an expected factor in all our school programs.

The players are all on their toes practicing for the Musical Festival which will be held here this spring and will be the first Festival in which a Cumberland Twp. orchestra will participate. All orchestras in the county are expected to attend. Each orchestra will play one selection of their choice. There will also be one mass number. As part of the same program the girls choruses of the county will use the same schedule. Miss Barclay will choose students who will be honored by becoming members of the All County Orchestra and All County Girls' Chorus.

As the concluding musical event of the year, the orchestra and chorus will present a concert early in May.

VARSITY C CLUB

Another year rolls by and again the high school is graduating a group of young men whose activity in the C Club has led them in the footsteps of such former members of the organization as Charles Hockenberry, Mike Monsolovich, Joe Siko, Tom Davies, and Felix Palone. These young men have all made a name for themselves in college sports. There were many outstanding athletes in this club who did not go to college.

The present members have held up in grand style the traditions left by the former members. In football, Tekavec, Cerjenic and all the rest of the football team established an enviable record against fast competition this year. Negria, Martof and Hockenberry did their part in bringing the basketball team through to a sectional title. Drombosky, in wrestling established a fine record. Throughout the year the Cumberland Township High School athletic teams have brought home good records.

FIRST ROW—Cheerleaders, Eleanor Knight, Kathleen Davies, Virginia Grimm, Jackie Stroble.

GIRLS C CLUB

The Girls' C Club has been very active all year. This group of twenty girls' under the excellent supervision of Miss Harriette Baily, has been more active than any other such group in the history of the club. They've been busy all year long selling candy and sandwiches at noon, holding skating parties, having sweater hops, Play Day, a Girls' Gym Program, basketball, mushball, and badminton tournaments. They have also bought letters for the girls on the winning basketball team.

To be eligible for membership in the club, a girl must earn 1000 points. The points are given for good sportsmanship, gym work, good school spirit, attitude toward classmates and the faculty, special activities, and a scholastic standing of an "S" average.

Each member is eligible to purchase a letter "C". The club buys the members' pins, which have the school insignia and year of graduation engraved in gold.

The officers for this year were as follows: Mildred Gotch, president; Estelle Biddle, vice president; Eleanor Knight, secretary-treasurer.

Sixteen of the members will graduate, leaving only four to carry on the work next year.

Another club has been added to those already in existence throughout the school, The Home Economics Club. It was originated by the senior home economics girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Scott. After organizing we invited the junior girls to join the club. Some aims of the club are to learn more about homemaking activities, to apply at home what we learn in school, to provide better social training, to develop teamwork and leadership, to raise standards of scholarship, and to promote pleasant, wholesome affairs.

To establish a treasury for the club we devised various means of raising money. The girls took orders for cakes, pies, cookies, and candy, and made these things in their vacant periods. On February 21 the club held a dance after the Point Marion game. The affair was enjoyed by all. On March 17 refreshments were sold after the Women's Civic Club dance. On March 18 a skating party was held at the Fairdale rink. We decided to build up the treasury by paying ten cents a month dues.

To date we are undecided how to spend the money we have earned. Some suggestions as to how we can spend it are to buy pins for club members, to take a trip, or to spend it for our own entertainment by having a dance or party. This will be decided later.

We have started this club in the hope that it will be carried on by future home economics girls, and that it wil become national within a year. Our club officers are faculty advisor, Mrs. Scott; president, Betty Hollis; vice president, Irene Cole; secretary, Gertrude Crick; treasurer, Tillie Mae Danforth.

FUTURE CRAFTSMEN

The Future Craftsmen of America is a boys' organization for the purpose of promoting the spirit of craftsmanship. It has been active in our school for the past four years. The club has held skating parties, and has made many projects to sell, and other projects for use in the school. They have finished the confectionery room in the school and have sold candy at the beginning of the school term.

Four new members added to the club this year are James Cole, Ray Ross, Allan Stephenson, and Daniel Swestyn. They were selected according to their grades in Industrial Arts and their willingness to work for the interest of the club.

At the Fourth Annual F. C. A. Convention last year at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, the club won an electric drill press, which they have presented to the school. They have set it up in the metal shop. Individual members winning prizes were Harvey Cunningham, first in electric; Henry Ross and Edwin Cole, first and second respectively in wood. This year Mr. J. Philip Young, sponsor, and three delegates will attend the Fifth Annual Convention at Tyrone, Pennsylvania, May 2 and 3.

The senior boys having received letters from the club are Andy Strednak, president; Edwin Cole, secretary; Charles Cunningham, treasurer; Eugene Crumrine, and Rudolph Curtis.

The six possible degrees, which may be obtained through leadership, safety, knowledge, craftsmanship, and attitude are Amateur Exploring, Hobby, Career, Junior Craftsman, and Senior Craftmanship. The senior boys have obtained all six. The junior boys have the first four, and freshmen and sophomore boys have only the first two.

FRONT ROW—J. Philip Young, Advisor; Steve Koratich, Edwin Cole, Secretary, Andy Strednak, President, Charles Cunningham, treasurer, James Hartley, Allan Stephenson.

The debating squad has chartered its course carefully this year, arriving at the ports of Bentleyville, Monessen, Charleroi, Donora, Masontown, State College, and California. On deck as first team were Edna Ersagovich, John Koral, Mildred Sloneker, and Allen Gwynne. With Miss Ruth Baily as pilot we won second place in Western Pennsylvania State League by winning Greene and Westmoreland counties and by defeating the victorious Washington and Fayette County affirmative team.

In June Miss Goodwin's group of speech participants will have brought to a close another year of poetry reading, declamation, and oration. This year they have participated in tournaments at Glassport, Centerville, Cumberland, California and Pittsburgh. In the county, Peggy Popson won first place in oratorical declamation. Many new members have been linked with this activity during the current school year. But what we still need is more stimulation of student interest in these activities.

An Honor Society, the National Forensic League, seeks to reward students for outstanding participation in these activities. This organization promotes the interests of interscholastic debates, oratory, and public speaking by encouraging a spirit of fellowship and by conferring upon deserving candidates a worthy badge of distinction after they have gained the four degrees: merit, honor, excellence, distinction. In order to have gained the first degree, a candidate must have gained twenty points, receiving points for each contest in which he participated.

MIKE STAFF

The Mike, the school paper prepared by carefully selected students of Cumberland High, is published every nine weeks or four times a year. The last issue is published entirely by the underclassmen. It is composed of news, gossip, fashions, sports, jokes and other interesting features. There is always a feeling of excitement each time the Mike is passed out. The members of the staff are known to see all, hear all, and print everything.

Under the supervision of Miss Ross and Miss Steele, the Mike has developed into a well managed paper. They choose the students on their ability to write, their industriousness and their interest. The members of the staff top their record of industriousness by their contributions to other school activiites.

Miss Ross took a group of the members of the Mike staff to the Pennsylvania School Press Association at Pittsburgh in November to show how a regular newspaper is published and to obtain some different ideas to improve the Mike.

The Mike was first published in 1935 and has since grown to be one of the most popular publications of Cumberland High. Copies of the Mike are sent to surrounding schools in exchange for their papers. The post-graduates enjoy reading this paper as much as the present students.

The following seniors will be lost to the Mike in the forthcoming year: Wilma Moore, the present editor, George Holupka, George Stilwell, Dolores Kavulish, Ethel Ellenberger, Eleanor Knight, John Bizub, Eugene Crumrine, Ralph Strosnider, and Marcine Helmick. Evelyn Mermelstein will succeed Wilma Moore as editor for 1941-42.

FOOTBALL 1940

With the return of approximately eight lettermen, Coach Venen and assistants "Al" Cree and "Doc" Gwyne proceeded to round a team into shape, a team which turned in a pretty good average by winning five games, tying two, and losing two.

The Mikes defeated all three of their county rivals, Mapletown, Jefferson and Waynesburg by scores of 20-0, 12-0 and 7-0 respectively, after getting off to a poor start in the first game. It seemed like a new team which returned for the second game and those thereafter. Besides defeating their county rivals, the Mikes also defeated California and Sewickley Twp. and lost only to Glassport and Trinity, two very strong teams this year.

Probably the two most outstanding games of the year were the California and Sewickley games. The Mikes completely outplayed California both offensively and defensively. The first downs were 10 to 3 in our favor with Martof and Hockenberry scoring in the second and third quarters. In the Jefferson game, due to the extreme cold and the deep mud, the ball was very hard to handle but the Mikes came through with a 12-0 win. Starring in this game were Holupka and Antonini. Holupka scored both touchdowns, first on a short pass over the line, and the second by recovering a kick which was blocked by Antonini. Tekavec held Jefferson in check with his fine kicking throughout the game. The following are the boys who scored and also their points: Martof, 36, Hockenberry 24, Tekavec 13, Holupka 12, Yanchus 6. Seven of Tekavec's points were made by placements after touchdowns.

The Mikes had four boys on the annual All-County team this year; they were Martof and Tekavec in the backfield and Cerjanic and Holupka on the line. On the second team were Antonini, Kasmarcik and Ward, Shimek, Hockenberry and Yanchus also received honorable mention.

Excepting Kasmarcik, the entire starting lineup will be lost for next year along with Bystry and Ward of the second team. Shimek and Petratus won't graduate but the former is ineligible and the latter has joined the army

The only boys returning next year with any amount of game experience are Carravaggio, a guard, and Osborne, an end. Others who should play next fall are Allayaud, Guley, Danforth, Clark, Marinslin, Paraigis, Polander, Roman, Forsythe and Dave Zagoric. A few more boys trying for the team will be Waggett, Siko, Koral, Weaver, Paprive, Stys, E. Tekavec, Cunningham, Walsh, De Iuliis, L. Martof, Schuman and Grile.

BASKETBALL 1941

The Mikes have had the distinction of being the first team in Cumberland Twp. High School history to be represented at the annual W. P. I. A. L. Tournament. The team selected to oppose Cumberland at Washington was Peters Twp., winner of the Section 25 flag. Cumberland won by a score of 42 to 38. Martof was high with 11 points. By winning in this game, Cumberland advanced to the quarterfinals, the team to be played was Burgettstown, winner of section 14, at Pitt Stadium. Cumberland's chances of going any farther in the tournament were lost when defeated by Burgettstown 24 to 26. Negria was high with 11 points.

Albert Cree, who succeeded Darwin P. Venen, as head coach of the basketball squad, did a fine job in leading his Mikes to the Section 23 flag. All members of the squad are seniors and will be lost by graduation: Martof, Negria, Tarlosky, Tekavec, Hockenberry, Schimonsky, Holupka. In winning the Section, Cumberland defeated Waynesburg twice and split with Mapletown, losing at Mapletown by a score of 34 to 32. Martof led the league's scoring with 60 points.

We won games at home and away with Georges, East Bethlehem, and Waynesburg. The team lost twice to Centerville and Trinity and split with German, Mapletown, and Point Marion.

Martof starred this season with 187 points, followed by Negria with 132. The Mikes placed Martof and Hockenberry on the Section 23 All Star team, Tekavec on second and Negria honorable mention.

The record for the B squad was 11 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie.

WRESTLING 1941

Our wrestling team the past season wasn't at all what we had expected; however with five wins against seven losses we give the boys much credit for doing as well as they did. They wrestled the toughest and most skillful wrestling teams in Western Pennsylvania

One handicap to the squad was our lower weights, the 85 and 95, and 105-pound classes. These were wrestled by three freshmen, Howard Urbany, Jack Cramer, and Ruby Ruse respectively. The most probable reason for their set-backs was inexperience.

In the upper weights we had very strong and skillful wrestlers. Dave Zagoric, in the 155 pound class, went undefeated during the dual meets. He was also high point man in individual scoring with 52 points. Drombosky was second with 48 points, and Caravaggio was third with 43 points.

In the Greene County Tournament held at the Mapletown High School gymnasium, we tied with Mapletown for second place honors. Dave Zagoric and George Drombosky took first place honors while George Caravaggio and Fred Clark won second honors in their respective weights. For the second consecutive year Waynesburg won the team title for the county championship.

We entered eight wrestlers in the W. P. I. A. L. Tournament held at Waynesburg High School. We had two boys wrestling in the final bouts. in the 135-pound class, Bill Danforth lost a hard fought battle to Paul Brunofsky of Waynesburg; and in the 165-pound class, George Drombosky lost by a decision to a former W. P. I. A. L. champion, Danny Abrahams of Canonsburg. Therefore our representatives won second place honors in their respective weights and were presented with silver medals. Our team as a whole tied with Greensburg for third place.

We will lose only two boys, Drombosky and Clark, by graduation, and we wish them all the success they can possibly have in future life. There will be seven letter-men left for next season, and from this group Coach Frank Bonifield should be able to pick a promising team.

The wrestlers wish to thank every one who co-operated in any way to make wrestling an interesting and an increasingly popular sport. Also they repeat their thanks to the Rotary Club for the banquet and entertainment provided in honor of the team.

SENIOR HISTORY

days to a different hue; but depressing thoughts were put behind us in the excitement of renewing old acquaintances. In a few weeks we settled down to work in earnest. The seniors selected as their class officers: Eugene Yanchus, president; Don Atcheson, vice president; George "Old Faithful" Stilwell, treasurer. A sweaterhop and a series of roller-skating parties, attracting wide attention, aided us in financing the long-awaited Prom. Again we made a trip to Pittsburgh and, if possible, had even a better time than we did last year. In May, we held the Prom at the Summit Hotel. It was a huge success.

As we look back over four years in Cumberland, we are indeed proud of the record we left behind. In football we were represented by Schimonsky, Ward, Holupka, Yanchus, Antonini, Martof, Bystry, Tekavec, Hockenberry and Cerjanec. Basketball found Negria, Hockenberry, Martof, Tekavec, Tarlosky, Tekavec, Holupka, and Schimonsky taking an active part. Drombosky and Clark were outstanding in wrestling. On the Mike Staff were Moore, Ellenberger, Stilwell, Crumrine, Bizub, Shimek, Holupka, Prodan, Titus, Barger and Strosnider. Those members in the National Honorary Society were Davis, Ross, Strednak, Moore, and Sertich acting as president.

To next year's seniors we wish all the success possible and we urge them to remember "The fruit derived from labor is the sweetest of all pleasures."

LOOKING BACK

Each yearbook goes to press several months before the school term is ended. This system makes it necessary to omit some of the accomplishments achieved by members of the graduating classes.

In the Greene County scholastic contests held at Waynesburg College, the following students were entered and won places indicated.

AMERICAN HISTORY
- Ethel Ellenberger—3rd.
- Wilma Moore
- Jack Barger
- Doris Levine

BIOLOGY:
- Jackie Struble
- Evelyn Mermelstein
- John Volchko

ENGLISH:
- Esther Brooks
- Mary Queen
- Anna Mosan—3rd.

GENERAL MATH.
- Marguerite Orlosky
- Alfred Baily
- William Grimm
- Jimmy Glover

SHORTHAND: Metro Kesnic—2nd, Lucille McClarren, Doreen Kelley, Rose Vignovitch.

SENIOR DIVISION—Charles Stilwell, Pete Krivoski.

JUNIOR DIVISION: Wilma Moore, Mary Swestyn.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In forensic work, including orational declamation, poetry, and humorous readings instructed by Miss Goodwin, we have Malvine Bise, Carol Richey, and Janet O'Neil. Under the supervision of Miss Ruth Bailey, our class contributed two promising debaters, John Koral and Don Allayaud. We hope to see them go far. This year our Forensic League members attended a student congress held at the State Teachers College in California, Pennsylvania.

In the musical corner of our class, we find these members playing in the orchestra: Jimmy Glover, John Koral, Malvine Bise, Carol Richey, and Alice Rostowick. We also have several girls from the sophomore class in the chorus.

Leaving this year behind we look forward to two more unforgettable years in Cumberland High. In parting we wish the best of luck to the seniors.

GYM

This year the girls gym classes have been chiefly interested in basketball. They played intramural basketball at noon and the team that won received seventy-five points toward the "C" Club and a "C". In the boys' gym classes this year they have had basketball and wrestling tournaments. Both seem to be quite popular sports. We owe our success in athletics to the fine training we received under the direction of Miss Baily and Mr. Bonifield.

THIS AND THAT

Once upon a time a certain high school in one of the forty-eight states was graduating a group of 112 students. These students were very intelligent but had a slight tendency to gossip. Almost any day, if you were to walk down the halls, you would hear something like this:

Hey, Mary, have you heard the latest? There are four college football players in the building. I think they're going to teach here-or something. Anyway, I'm all excited! Goodness, I wonder if they have steady girl friends.

Hi, kids, What's all the excitement? Has anything spectacular happened? Oh, you're talking about the prom! Say, do you know who's going with Jay S? We think it will be the dark-haired junior he's been seen with. Perhaps he'll surprise us but we doubt it.

Jane, do you know that the saphomore girls have taken up an old idea of having initials put in class rings and enlarging the rings somewhat. Instead of the usual custom of having two or three initials engraved inside the ring the girls have four initials cut under the band. We've often wondered whether two of the initials were a boy's. It would be a nice keepsake to have your best beau's initials right beside yours.

Hello, Joe. What do you know—about graduation gifts? Have you bought your girl one? You don't have a girl? Gee, that's nice—I mean—that's tough and I'm still in a daze. My girl won't help me. She won't tell me what she wants. I think I'll ask Lawrence Kerr. He should know.

Say, boys, have you heard anything about the senior class prophecy? Several of the seniors are worried. They'd like to know what has been said about them. Why should they worry? Have they done something they don't want people to know about? But, of course, that couldn't be it.

Where are you going, Betty? Sure, I'll go with you. I have a study hall this period, too. Isn't it swell that the three classes went to Pittsburgh? We got there in March. We had a lot of fun. We sang songs in the buses and ate our lunches there, too. We visited the Buhl Planetarium, the Conservtory, the airport, and the Allegheny County Morgue. We went to the Stanley Theatre that evening and saw Marthe Raye on the stage.

It's surprising that some of the senior girls haven't quit school to get married. What's wrong with them? Gee, with the draft and everything coming up, you'd think the girls would get them while they're still at home. Once they get in the army and meet the army hostesses or go to sea and have a girl in every port, the girls will be out of luck.

Such conversations, although utterly harmless, caused much excitement among the students. Each day someone had something new to tell. Things were never dull at that high school. Teachers, the various activities, classes, and gossip kept things alive. The school still exists, the students still gossip, and this and that still goes on.

JOKES

Donald (seeing Emil eating an apple) : "Look out for the worms Emil." Emil: "When I eat an apple, the worms have to look out for themselves."

Miss Wilson (to Bill Crago) : "How would you punctuate this sentence? The wind blew a twenty-dollar bill around the corner."
Bill: "I would make a dash after the bill."

Ethel Ellenburger: "My boy friend gave me a lovely fox neckpiece."
Dolores Kavaulish: "Was it silver?"
Ethel Ellenburger: "No terrier, and when I told people I was putting on the dog, I wasn't kidding."

George Holupka: "So what?"
Jay Schimonsky: "If you're good you go to a place of everlasting bliss. If not, you go to a place of everlasting blisters."

Mr. Cree: "What is your idea of civilization?"
Richard Yanchus: "It's a good idea, somebody ought to start it."

Mr. Kerr: "Because she's so good at introducing bills into the house."
Mr. Gwynne: "Why?"
Mr. Kerr: "Because she's so good at introduction bills into the house."

Jean: "After all, darling, we have only one life to live."
Pete: "With prices going up the way they are, it's a good thing that one is our limit."

Betty Hollis: "I don't want any more flour like that you gave me last week."
Josephine Sertich: "What was the matter with it?"
Betty Hollis: "It was so tough nobody could eat the biscuits I made from it.

Donald Allayaud: "I can't decide whether I ought to be mad at Bill or not."
John Koral: "How So?"
Donald: "He sent me a post card from Rome that said: "This is the rock from which the ancient Romans used to hurl people they didn't like. Wish you were here."

Mr. Cree: "Dale, explain to the class what a hypocrite is."

MODERN DEFINITIONS

A Recession is when you need to tighten your belt.

A Depression is when you have no belt to tighten.

When you have no pants to hold up, boy, that's a panic.

A woman after looking over the pastries at a hamburger counter: "I would like to have two hamburgers, well done, no pickle, but you may put a ltte mustard on them."

Counterman (shouting to cook). "Elmers on two, hobnailed; hold the pucker and make 'em dirty!"

Guppy Bore: "Let's have some real fun this evening, dear."
Mrs. Bore: "That's a fine idea. But please leave the hall light on if you get home before I do."
